The Multi-Partner Trust Fund (MPTF) is one of the largest country-level pooled funds globally. Currently there are 14 Participating UN agencies. The fund provides assistance to the most vulnerable groups, based on the most urgent humanitarian needs as defined in the Integrated Framework for Resilience in South Sudan. It provides strategic financing to integrated programmes that together support the implementation of the Agreement for South Sudan Humanitarian Fund Between MFA and UNDP Multi Partner Trust Fund Office in Malawi: ensuring the realization of girls' and boys' rights to quality, inclusive and equitable education. The fund also supports peace initiatives aimed at supporting the implementation of the peace accords.
